Scores of models—each presenting some distinctive style feature for fall. Smart chemise models, tunics, triple-tier effects, one-side drapes, many introduce touches of the Moya age type, with close-fitting bodices following the natural lines of the figure, with full bouffant skirts; others are straight line and belted.

TRIMMING is one of the many features of the new fall fashions—and these dresses show many beautiful and novel effects, acquired by the use of iridescent and bugle beads, yarns, silk floss, metallic thread, buttons, buckles, tassels, and some have chenille braid.
